The Home Boys Entertained.

The skating rink was a scene of a continuous round of pleasure from 10 1/2 o'clock Friday night when the girls exercised their best efforts to entertain the young society men who had been giving them so many enjoyable skating parties at the rink during the past winter. The majority of the girls were dressed in white summer dresses and they were never so attractive and sociable as they were at this last year party for the home boys. Each one was busy trying to make their guests have a good time and they most certainly succeeded. At 11 o'clock an elegant and sumptuous luncheon, which the girls had previously prepared, was served to all those present and was thoroughly relished by the skaters. The Road Question.

Mr. J. D. Babbage: Dear Sir:—In reading your paper for the last six months I have failed to notice any thing said about the roads. You claim to treat all with justice; and you always had a great desire to say when the roads were bad. Please tell us why you are so mum now, for the roads are worse now than they have been for twelve years. In fact, they are almost impassable, but we do not blame Charley Ber for it. He is a good road man. We do blame you for concealing every other supervisor and laying all the bad roads to inefficient supervision when the roads that were worked most last year are now the worst roads we have. John, (if you will get us hear what you have got to say about the condition of the roads.

Respectfully,

Ex-Supervisor, Geo. N. Harris.

GRAND MEETING HELD BY A. S. OF E.

Farmers Meet At Hardinsburg Monday--Twelve Local Unions Represented.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

A large and representative body of farmers, members of the A. S. of E., and a number who were not members, but in sympathy with the society, met at Hardinsburg Monday. It was a regular meeting of the Breckenridge county Union. The local Unions were fairly well represented by delegates from twelve local Unions. There never was a more solid, substantial and thrifty body of farmers assembled at Hardinsburg. They were never more determined and loyal to their cause. They were happy, contented and prosperous. They were all in love and harmony; their only object seemed to be to keep in harmony and keep down disorder in their ranks. Conservation reigned. Law and order was the key note. Better products, better prices and an equal deal to all seemed to be the supreme object of their coming together.

Mr. Shiresbury, President of the county Union, called the meeting to order. In doing so, he said he thought it was strange that farmers cannot come together and unite on one thing and stand by it. He wished to impress on members that whatever was done here today, should be done with the view to the best interests of the farmers, their neighbors and friends. Let us first be right; know that we are right, then go ahead and stand by it. "If we decided said he, to plant 10,000 hills to the hand, let every one of us do it. By doing this we keep down discontent and murmurings. There will be no trouble if every man sticks to his promises." He made a splendid talk, full of good advice and a spirit of fair dealing. Mr. Shiresbury appointed the following committee on resolutions: W. R. Pierce, R. L. Burch, E. B. Oglesby, Dr. P. W. Foote, Lon Jarboe and Silas Miller. The committee retired after a long consultation reported the following resolutions, which after some discussion were unanimously adopted.

We, your committee on resolutions, affirm our faith in the eternal principles taught in the official organs and the sabbath book.

We realize that the present prices of farm products, while not yet remunerative, would be much lower if no attempt had ever been made by the organization to compel a living price.

We deplore the little disruption in the last Indianapolis Convention and feel that many of our loyal subjects are at a loss to know when to follow. The next Convention, we think, will fully settle this question, and while we are waiting, we urge you all to stand together.

We condemn the lawlessness of the night riders and as an organization, stand, talk and fight against such. On the other hand, we feel and know that the laws have been trampled and the farmer robbed to an extent that far outweighs present outrages and that two wrongs never make one right.

We demand our law makers to take prompt action against the trusts.

We urge all locals to send one delegate to attend the meeting to be held at Owensboro on April 18.

We also urge all local unions to get busy and pay their dues for on this depends the life and success of the American Society of Equity.

We recommend that the acreage be set to 10,000 hills to the hand, 5,000 to the half hand.

We universally condemn the Kentucky press for their unfair reports and ask a loan to defeat the principles of Equity.

NEW STATE LAWS

Acts of the Late Legislature Presented Here In Concise Form.

SOME OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

While Not So Many Laws Were Enacted as by Previous General Assembly, Some Acts Stand High.

Reorganization of the Kentucky School System Was One of the Measures of Large Importance.

Far-Reaching Action Was Taken Toward a Regulation of Tobacco Business in the State.

Among the Measures That Failed Were the County Option Bill and the Reapportionment Bill.

The Kentucky Legislature that adjourned on March 17th did not enact as many laws as its predecessor, but some of the laws are of vital importance. Chief among these are the following:

Act abolishing the present school trustee system and establishing county boards to control the schools and teachers; act to prevent a man from selling his tobacco after he pools it; act appropriating $475,000 to complete the new Statehouse and maintain it; act appropriating $300,000 to the two Normal Schools and $200,000 to the State University; act putting poolrooms out of business; act giving state aid to all tuberculosis sanatoriums; act providing for a vote to amend the constitution so as to permit state aid to public road building; act authorizing warehousemen to commingle tobacco of like grades; act further regulating the employment of children in factories, and an act providing the tax penalty shall not go on until December 1 each year.

The bill to extend the county unit local option law to all counties in the state failed to pass, as did the bills to restrict the senatorial and representative districts, and the bill requiring all buyers of tobacco to pay a license fee.

The governor vetoed a number of bills, the most important one being the Arnett bill exempting from taxation stock in foreign corporations owned by residents of Kentucky.

The total amount of all appropriation bills is about $1,325,000, and the session of sixty days cost about $90,000.

Governor Wilson gave out a statement reciting at considerable length his reasons for vetoing several appropriation bills passed by the legislature. The principal bill vetoed was the measure appropriating $100,000 for a state tuberculosis sanatorium. Three or four other measures added considerably to the sum appropriated by the legislature. In his statement the governor recites that when the present legislature and state officers were elected there was nearly a million and a half of dollars in the treasury. This surplus, he says, the legislature, against his wishes expressed in messages and vetoes, wiped out and then proceeded to pass the measures just vetoed after the auditor had presented to the two houses a statement showing that there was but $159 left in the treasury. The course of the majority of the legislature is sharply arraigned in the statement.

The following bills are all that passed and were signed by the Governor:

WILL CELEBRATE THE FOURTH.

Manager Neilsen Has Begun Preparations To Have Gala Day At Tar Springs.

GRAND BARBECUE ANNOUNCED.

Announcement is made to the public of the barbecue to be held at Tar Springs the Fourth of July. The event will be the greatest "picnic celebration" that has ever taken place in this and surrounding counties.

The program of the day will be under the direction of Manager N. Neilsen and several assistants. He is making arrangements to give the guests at the resort and all visitors a day of utmost pleasure. High class amusements will be furnished in connection with the skating rink.

Other plans for the occasion will be published in the News later.

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

The Restorative is a genuine tonic to feed, run-down nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of winter nearly always leads to sluggish bowels, and to sluggish circulation in general. The customary lack of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and oftentimes weakens the heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days' test will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will surely feel the change from day to day. Sold by all dealers.

PASSED THE VENISON.

One Member of the Council Had a Tender Conscience.

This quaint account of an old time Thanksgiving celebration in New England was found in the diary of a Connecticut minister, dated in the year 1714:

"When ye services at ye meeting house were ended, ye council and other dignitaries were entertained at the house of Mr. Epos on ye hill near by, where we had ye plentiful Thanksgiving dinner, with bear's meat and venison, the last of which was a fine buck, shot in the woods near by."

"After ye blessing was craved word came that ye buck was shot on ye Lord's day by Pequot, an Indian, who came to Mr. Epos with a live in his mouth, like the Antelope of old. Ye council therefore refused to eat ye venison, but it was afterward decided that Pequot should receive forty stripes save one for lying and profaning ye Lord's day and restore Mr. Epos ye price of ye deer, and considering this just and righteous sentence on ye sinful heathen and that a blessing had been craved on ye meat, ye council all partook of it but Mr. Shepard, whose conscience was tender on ye point of ye venison."

One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin.

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm heartfelt wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by Severs Drug Co.

Stung. Mr. Jawback "That boy gets his brains from me. Mrs. Jawback—Somebody got 'em from you. If you ever had any. That's a cinch—Cleveland Leader."

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Cloverport Citizen Finds The Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. G. K. Gregory, Bell Hotel, Owensboro, Ky., says: "My trouble was lame back or lumbago. At times I could hardly stand erect after sitting or stooping and the pains shooting through the small of my back on making any quick movement, were excruciating. I was also subject to frequent headaches, and was troubled more or less with dizzy spells. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box and they strengthened my back and I felt like a different man. I do not think I have had a headache since and I give the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Buried at Ekron.

The remains of Mrs. Joe Gilliland, who died at her home in this city were interred at Ekron.

Mrs. Gilliland had been ill of consumption for several weeks and she suffered patiently until the end came.

Before her marriage to Mr. Gilliland she was Miss Emmie Brown. She was thirty years of age and besides her husband, she left four children.

Tired mothers, worn out by the peevish cross body have found Calumet a boon and a blessing. Calumet is for babies and children, and is especially good for the ill so common in cold weather. Look for the ingredients printed on the bottle. Contains no harmful drugs. Sold by all druggists.

And Old Subscriber.

A. H. Dowell, of Irvington, has been a constant reader of the Breckenridge News since its publication. He was the 79th man to subscribe.

Years ago, in paying up his subscription, Mr. Dowell secured one of the egg baskets given by the News. He has used it continually since, averaging ten or more dozen of eggs for the market every week, winter and summer. He has sold eggs on the table have brought him only 3 cents per dozen, while he has carried them to his home buyer and realized 26 cents per dozen in the winter when there has been a great scarcity of eggs. Doubtless his is the oldest egg basket in use in the county.

A Twenty Year Sentence.

"I have just completed a twenty year health sentence, imposed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just twenty years ago," writes O. S. Woolver, of LaRassville, N. Y. EIGHT PAGES.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8, 1908.

Pat Davis says, "Currie, you've got a good choir but Hardinsburg beats you—in numbers."

Don't stick up a notice on your neighbor's barn for a joke. These are not joking times along that line.

A Chicago live stock dealer says cattle will reach 8 cents, hogs 6 cents and lambs 9 cents before July 1, 1908.

Farmers from all sections of the county report tobacco plants in splendid condition and nearly ready for setting.

Let every tobacco grower in Breckinridge county do his level best to make quality instead of quantity in his tobacco crop. Quality always pays.

Whatever you do, don't put out more tobacco than you agreed to. Whether you belong to the society or not, stand with them and for what they want. In unity there is strength.

Taylor Beard paid a very handsome tribute to Breckinridge county citizenship in his talk before the Society of Equity. "Equal rights and equal privileges to all, United we Stand, Divided we Fall." Get this sentiment into your heart and work.

JUDGE HEAVERIN ACTIVE.

Judge M. L. Heaverin, of Hartford, chairman of the Fourth Congressional district was in Cloverport Friday and also visited other places in Breckinridge in the interest of the nomination of Taft for president. Judge Heaverin was cordially welcomed by the Republicans of this county and his advocating Taft has much influence over the political leaders.

As little Eudaley Currie said, "Pat Davis is come." We are glad Pat is here. He has come to us with the right spirit. He pleased everyone Monday night when he spoke of Cloverport and called it "a beautiful little city." It is a splendid town, the best on earth, but we hope Pat will help us to make it more beautiful. We trust he will help us get the drunkard out of the ditch, the whiskey from the light drinker, and the gambler from his den. These things are here, right under one's nose, but we do not realize it until their terrible effects come into our own home, into our own shops and offices. Then we open our eyes! May Pat help us to do these things we ourselves have failed to do.

BEAU FIELDING.

He Was the Enigma of English Social Life in His Day.

Beau Fielding was a young man of fashion in the reign of William III. His name was unanimously furnished, his hunters, hacks and racers were of great value, and "he kept a table of princely hospitality." He had no ostensible source of income. All that was known of him was that he was the fifth son of Thomas Wilson, an impoverished gentleman of Leicestershire. Evelyn describes him as a very young man, "civil and good natured, but of no great force of character," and "very sober and of good family." All attempts to discover his secret were vain. "In his most careless hours of amusement he kept a strict guard over his tongue and left scandal to conjecture what it pleased."

He redeemed his father's estate and portioned off his sisters and when remonstrated with on his extravagance replied that, however long his life should last, he would always have enough to live in the same way. Some said it was he who had robbed the Holland mail, for which another man had suffered; others that he depended upon the gambling table, though he never played for large sums. He was the enigma of social life till his career was cut short by a duel. His adversary was at that time a young man about town like himself, John W., who afterward became the founder of the famous Mississippi scheme by which half of France was ruined. When the mysterious Beau died he left only a few pounds behind him and not a scrap of evidence to enlighten public curiosity.

HOT POTS OF HEBER.

The Curious Natural Formations Found in Utah.

Of ever increasing interest to natural curiosity seekers are the hot pots, about three miles from Heber City, Utah, on a branch line of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, running up through picturesque Provo canyon. This region is a level plain, but the surface of which arise in strange confusion numbers of conical shaped cylinders, the largest of them being all of fifty feet high, a hundred feet in diameter at the top and twice that at the base and containing in their dark depths immense volumes of water heated to a high temperature in the furnace of the earth. They contain the usual chemical properties of thermal springs and are used for bathing and drinking with excellent effects. These pots have evidently been formed by the slow deposition through countless centuries of the silica and soda which enter into the composition of the waters that rise from the rim. The hot pots are found in the midst of cultivated fields and thriving orchards notwithstanding the peculiar rocklike soil composition.

One of the marked peculiarities of the region is the hollow, rumbling sound caused by carriages and horses as they move over the roadways for miles around. "Is there an enormous cavern just below the surface and will it ever cave in?" is the anxious inquiry of every visitor alarmed at the strange underground sounds.—Exchange.

Sweet Cane From a Far Country.

It has been supposed that sugar cane was the "sweet cane from a far country," mentioned in Jeremiah xl, 20, and in Isaiah xlii, 24. According to Strabo, Xenarchus, the admiral of Alexander the Great, describes a kind of "honey" from an Indian "reed" which was regularly sugar cane. Europe seems to be indebted for the plant to the Saracens, who introduced it into Rhodes, Cyprus, Sicily, Crete and Spain in the ninth century. The crusaders of the twelfth century found it in Syria. The Spaniards and Portuguese carried it to Madeira and the Canaries in the fifteenth century, and on the discovery of America it was taken to the West Indies.—New York American.

Real American Aristocracy.

It was through the Declaration of Independence that we Americans acknowledge the eternal inequality of man, for by it we abolished a cut and dried aristocracy. We had seen little man artificially held up in high places and great men artificially held down in low places, and our own justice loving hearts abhorred this violence to human nature. "Let the best man win." That is America's word. That is true democracy. And true democracy and true aristocracy are one and the same thing.—Owen Winter in "The Virginian."

An Embarrassing Explanation.

"Why do you charge me 25 cents when your sign says, 'First class hair cut, 15 cents?'" demanded the indignant customer. "The fellow who cut your hair," replied the barber, "showered his shoulders and lifted his eyebrows."

"Pardon, monsieur," he returned, "it is not it. It is the fellow who cut your hair who had the first class hair."

Collectors. "My collection," said the numismatist proudly, "is worth $10,000 and every coin genuine."

"Mine," said the minister sadly, "is worth about $7.00 a Sunday. I have to take my chances on the coins being good."—Cleveland Leader.

Would Take a Chance.

"Not a cent," replied the rich man coldly. "Money is not good for the poor."

"Well," responded the applicant, "just pretend that you have a grudge against me."—Exchange.

The Noted Hamilton Cultivator.

IMPROVED RIDING CULTIVATOR
No. 2, with Square Steel Beams and Four Shovels.

Our riding cultivator like all others of our make have the adjustable arch and adjustable standards, but in addition to these they have another feature that has helped more than any other to increase their popularity, that is the foot treadle guide for controlling the beam. By a direct forward pressure of the foot on the treadle attached to the beam the operator can instantly make the beam run to the right or the left as he will, enabling him to dodge crossed corn with ease. The levers, one on either side of the seat, within easy reach of the operator, enable him to control the depth of the furrow or to lift the beams out of the ground entirely. These features of course make the cultivator very easy to control and therefore the most valuable machine in the corn belt. It is in place of the four shovel attachments, if desired.

THE FACE IN ILLNESS.

To the Trained Eye It Quickly Shows a Patient's Condition.

The face is a good index to the state of one's physical being, and from it symptoms of disease can be detected almost before the patient is aware that anything serious is the matter with him. For instance, incomplete closure of the eyelids, redness of the whites of the eyes visible during sleep, is a symptom in all acute and chronic diseases of a severe type. It is also to be observed when rest comes from pain wherever sent.

Twitching of the eyelids, associated with the oscillation of the eyelids, or squinting, heralds the visit of convulsions.

Widening of the orifices of the nose, with movements of the nostrils to and fro, points to cough, or to trouble from disease of the lungs or their plural involvement.

Contraction of the brows indicates pain in the head, sharpness of the nostrils pain in the chest and a drawn upper lip pain in the abdomen.

To make a general rule, it may be stated that the upper portion of the face is altered in expression in affections of the brain and the middle third in the diseases of the organs contained in the abdominal cavity.

Cotton Spinning Feats.

"Sea Island cotton is the best kind," said a southerner. "It is finer and silkier than any other cotton in the world. A pound of it can be spun into 4,770 miles of thread. For an experiment once in the English town of Manchester a skilled spinner spun a pound of sea island cotton into a single thread 1,000 miles long. Then for another experiment he took another pound of cotton and spun it into as many hanks as he could get. He got 10,000 hanks in all, and the yarn in each measured 840 yards. Thus, out of a pound of cotton 4,770 miles of yarn was produced. This yarn, though, was too fine to be of any practical utility. Those two experiments made a superb expenditure for the cotton of the south."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Constantinople Shoemakers.

In Constantinople the shoemakers are all poets. While a customer is having a heel repaired or a shoe replaced the attendant recites extemporized or memorized verses to him. As the language is Arabic or Turkish, the listener rarely knows whether he is hearing a good or bad verse. On the Muski, the Broadway of old Cairo, one can buy the red leather, sharp-toed slippers, universally worn in a land where there is rarely any rain, for about 90 cents. They are not worth more, being very flimsy articles in construction. They are not representative of the expert English or American handmade shoe, which is a thing of beauty, of comfort and of enduring utility.—Argonaut.

have not fallen, but still are in need of the sympathy that is being wasted. Especially is this true of the woman offender. Many love to hear eloquent discourses on the station of the girl of the streets. I know the view I hold is not the popular one, but nevertheless I am firmly of the belief that the woman of the streets does not reform any more than does her brother of the burglar kit and dark lantern. And she is a most dangerous factor in the spread of crime. Most of her class are thieves, and most of them support thieves of the opposite sex, and therefore their influence for evil is most extensive.

"Instead of wasting so much sympathy on the girls who have fallen, why not expend some practical consideration on the young woman who may be in danger of falling? This, it seems to me, would be the better plan. The ounce of prevention outweighs the pound of cure many fold."

"It is well nigh impossible, in my opinion, for the shopgirl getting $4 or $5 a week to live in New York in a self-respecting manner."

"If there were less sympathy and commiseration for the criminal and the unfortunate creatures of the streets and more sent all to the needy, they might be less troublesome to the master of the world at large."

One Seam For Fifteen Years.

It has been said that the most notorious form of labor is ginning baled cotton. There are many others which come very near it. In the best and shoe trade, for instance, the work is divided among as many workers as possible. One will thus make a single cut in the leather and another give one turn of the machine handle. In some cases a pair of shoes have passed through fifteen pairs of hands before reaching the customer. As a natural result, there are workers who work after week go on performing the same work hundreds of times a day. Indeed in one factory there is a woman who for fifteen years has sewed only one seam. Her machine works so rapidly that she spends as much time inserting and withdrawing her work as in the actual sewing.—Westminster Gazette.

The First Christmas Gift Book.

In the General Advertiser of Jan. 9, 1750, appeared the earliest known announcement of a Christmas gift book, and in this case it was undeniably a gift book.

"Given gratis. By J. Newberry, at the Bible and Sun, in St. Paul's Churchyard, over against the north door of the church (only paying one penny for the binding, Nurse True-love's Christmas Box; or The Golden Plaything for Little Children, by which they may learn the letters as soon as they can speak; and know how to behave so as to make everybody love them; adorned with thirty cuts."—London Mail.

Fond Mother—That settles it, my son. I don't want you to be contaminated by association with anybody who uses such dreadful language.—Baltimore American.

Just Out.

Elder Brother—Didn't you stop at the news agent's and get that magazine for me?

Himself—He didn't have none; just sold out.

"Did he say so?"

"I didn't have to ask him. There he had it all printed on a big sign, '—Magazine Just Out.'"—Chums.

The Missing Factors.

"Now, then, children," said the teacher, "what is the way to make this world to make us perfectly happy?"

"De things we ain't got!" shouted the bright boy in the back seat.—Philadelphia Press.

The Missing Factor.

"But the primary obstacle to the betterment of conditions is the foolish attitude of the people who glorify in releasing criminals and ignore those who
